He graduated from Ripon College cum laude in 1968 and New York University School of Law in 1971. Admitted to the Bar in 1971, he began his practice after service in the United States Army. During his professional career, Mr. Kammen has served as a public defender in the Marion County Courts on two occasions, 1972-1974 and 1978-1979. A frequent speaker and lecturer on criminal defense issues, Mr. Kammen has spoken in many states and federal circuits. He has been a member of the faculty of the National Criminal Defense College since 1982 and the Trial Lawyers College since 2001. Mr. Kammen is the recipient of the Pro Bono Award given by the Indiana Bar Association in 1986.

Andrea Lyon, Chicago, IL

Andrea D. Lyon is an Associate Clinical Professor of Law and Director of the Center for Justice in Capital Cases at DePaul University College of Law. Professor Lyon graduated from Rutgers University in 1973, and from the Antioch School of Law in 1976. She joined the Cook County Public Defenders' Office that year, where she worked in the felony trial division, post-conviction/habeas corpus unit, preliminary hearing/first municipal (misdemeanor) unit, and the appeals division. She has defended over thirty potential capital cases at the trial level and has taken nineteen through penalty phase; she has won all nineteen. In 1990 she founded the Illinois Capital Resource Center and served as its director until joining the University of Michigan Law School faculty as an Assistant Clinical Professor in 1995. A winner of the prestigious National Legal Aid and Defender Association's Reginald Heber Smith Award for best advocate for the poor in the country, she is a nationally recognized expert in the field of death penalty defense and a frequent continuing legal education teacher throughout the country.

Tom Monaghan, Boise, ID

Tom Monaghan graduated with honors from the University of Washington School of Law in 1994 and is a member of the Order of the Coif. He began his law career in 1994 as a federal law clerk with United States District Judge Alan A. McDonald of the Eastern District of Washington. Tom joined the Federal Defenders of Eastern Washington and Idaho in 1996 and served as the Branch Chief of the Yakima office from 1999 through 2002. Tom moved over to the Boise branch office of the Federal Defenders of Eastern Washington and Idaho in 2002 as a Senior Trial Attorney. Tom has spoken at conferences in Idaho, Washington, and Oregon.

Amy Rubin, Spokane, WA

Amy Rubin joined the Federal Defenders of Eastern Washington and Idaho for the first time in 1999 as a summer intern, and Amy was then awarded a one-year fellowship position in the Spokane main office. After clerking for the Honorable Clarence Cooper of the United States District Court for Northern District of Georgia for two years, Amy returned to the Federal Defender fold where she continues to represent her clients aggressively. Amy is particularly interested in finding new and creative ways to present her clients to the court as real people rather than numbers in a guideline manual. Amy graduated from the University of Colorado in 1995 and received her law degree from the University of Montana.
